Trainee

Welcome to the Learning Environment for Pathology Trainees (LEPT) system, the ePortfolio provided for you by the Royal College of Pathologists. Please use the LEPT system to record all of your progress in training and assessments. The LEPT system works best for you if you use and update it regularly. There is help text provided throughout but should you have any issues that you are unable to resolve yourself, please contact assessment@rcpath.org and a member of College staff will be able to help you. Wishing you all the best for your pathology training.
